September has slipped by us again. We had beautiful weather last week and enjoyed watching the foliage turn the many different colors. Many large chartered buses went up on Route 26, carrying foliage watchers.

I took Joe Barrett for a ride and lunch at McDonald's and he got along much better, wanted to go to the Fair. I could just about hobble around so we didn't go to the fair. Sunday morning I went to Norway hospital and the "Doc" said phlebitis. I need something like that. He prescribed hot packs and capsules so I guess I'll survive. Heat makes it feel better.

Callers at Lawrence's: Ruby Coffin, Duane Lowe, Eveline Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kalinowski, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Card.

The Community Club members and families had their first potluck supper, Sept. 29, and we really had a feed. More than 50 were present. Don't know if Mary saw us or not.

BUTANE LIGHTERS POTENTIAL HAZARD WHEN CARRIED NEAR WELDING OR OPEN FIRES

The following item taken from the "Vermont News Guide" of Sept. 18 has prompted Killington and Sunday River Ski Areas to forbid its employees to carry butane lighters in areas where welding or cutting operations are taking place. Through the courtesy of Burton Mills, this information was made available for publication in The Citizen as a service to others who may be unaware of the potential hazard of an exploding butane lighter.

"It may be of interest to your readers, especially those involved in local industries, to know that in the last 30 days, the Union Pacific Railroad has had two fatal accidents caused by disposable butane cigarette lighters. These accidents occurred in welding areas while employees were welding, with butane lighters on their person. A spark from the welder landed on the butane lighter, burned through, exposing the liquid butane which exploded.

"One lighter was in a shirt pocket and killed the individual instantly. The other employee had a lighter in his pants pocket. The explosion blew the man's leg off; he died a short time later.

"There is the same amount of force in a butane lighter when it

LEAVITT DEFEATS TELSTAR 7-1 IN WEDNESDAY SOCCER

Scott McManus scored four goals, three of them in the third quarter, as Leavitt took a 7-1 soccer decision from host Telstar on Wednesday afternoon.

The game was tied at 1-1 at the half, as McManus scored for Leavitt and Bruce Clements, assisted by Rich Angevine, for the Rebels. In the third period, however, McManus' hat trick and single tallies by Brent Hammond and Van Wirkerson put the game out of reach. Hammond collected his second goal of the afternoon in the fourth quarter to close out the scoring.

Mark Randall made five saves for the winners; Rex Croteau stopped 19 for Telstar, which is 2-9 and will host Winthrop on Friday.

GOULD EDGES BUCKFIELD 3-2 IN SOCCER WEDNESDAY

Gould Academy scored twice in the fourth quarter Wednesday for a 3-2 soccer victory over visiting Buckfield.

An unassisted goal by Cruegar Morrell at 11:16 of the final quarter tied the game 2-2, then Ted Prime booted one home at 14:39 in an unassisted effort to win it for the Huskies.

The Bucks took a 1-0 lead in the second quarter on a goal by Ted Dunn, Dave Bell assisting. Gould tied it in the third as Morrell scored, Scott Hurd getting the assist. Buckfield went back out front at 4:43 of the third as Ron Thompson scored on a direct corner kick.

Gould, now 3-3 on the season, held a 34-32 edge in shots. Mike

MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS SOCIETY NAMES DRIVE CO-CHAIRMEN

Mary Chadbourne and Kay Chadbourne of Bethel have been named to serve as Residential Co-Chairmen for the Maine Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society in Bethel. The local drive will continue through Oct. 15.

Multiple Sclerosis, MS, is a neurological disease of the central nervous system, first diagnosed in young adults between the ages of 20 and 40. It is not a mental disease nor is it contagious. Symptoms of the disease could include numbness in parts of the body, defective vision, loss of coordination (speech difficulties), or loss of balance. Of special significance to MS is the unexplained disappearance of one or more of these symptoms either temporarily or permanently.

"A vehicle in good shape, driven by a safety-minded driver, will collect dividends in peace of mind for oneself, comfort for passengers, and be the finest possible insurance against colliding with fellow road users," said Col. Weeks.

Explodes as there is in approximately three sticks of dynamite.

"Although this information may be concerned chiefly with motor vehicle employees, who are directly connected with welding and cutting operations, all employees should be warned of the danger. No one should have a disposable butane lighter on their person while in the vicinity of a welding or cutting operation or anywhere near open flames."

HARVEST SUPPER PLANNED BY EAST STONEHAM CHURCH

When the frost is on the pumpkins nothing is as appetizing as an old fashioned harvest supper. Just such hot and hearty meal will be served Thursday, Oct. 11, from 5:30 to 7 p. m. in the East Stoneham church vestry.

The traditional corned beef will be served at the bountiful meal along with potatoes, beets, turnips, onions and squash pie. Kate Flynn, chairman of the choir, is heading the supper arrangements. The proceeds will be used for church expenses.

TELSTAR IS 2-0 FIELD HOCKEY VICTOR OVER BERLIN IN OCT. 3

Telstar and Berlin, N. H., played to a scoreless tie in the regulation portion of their Wednesday high school field hockey meeting, but Telstar outscored the visiting Mountaineers in the shoot-out to post a 2-0 victory.

Berlin missed all five tries in the shoot-out, which took place after the coaches agreed to forego the usual overtime period. Marlene Bean scored on the first Telstar shot, though, and after two misses Berta Smith connected for an insurance goal.

Karen Brooks made eight saves for the winners, while Berlin's Diane Legere stopped two. Telstar, 9-3, will return to action Oct. 12 at home against Valley of Bingham, then will travel to Dirigo in Dixfield for a make-up game the following afternoon.

Berg made 25 saves in goal for Buckfield, Jerome Howell 20 in the Gould net.

USE OF STUDDED TIRES AGAIN LEGAL

The Maine State Police remind motorists that they may again begin the use of studded tires during October.

"Although studded tires may be used now, they must be off motor vehicles before May 1," said Col. Allan H. Weeks, Chief of the Maine State Police.

State law (Title 29, sec. 1375) states that tires having metal studs, wires or spikes protruding from the tread cannot be used on Maine roads during the period from the first day of May to the first day of October.

Classes which meet at Telstar and the Woodstock School will not meet Monday, Oct. 8, due to the holiday. Classes at non-school sites and at the Andover School will meet unless cancelled by the instructor.

At present there are 11 students working toward their high school diploma in Adult Ed. classes.

Adult-Community Education Director Cathy Newell visited at Telstar on Oct. 2 with Clayton Blood, State Consultant for Adult Education, who conducted a training session on the GED test. Telstar continues to be a testing center for the high school equivalency test. Enrollment in Adult Ed. fall classes has topped 300. Several national average. An estimated 6,000 people in Maine have MS; an estimated 500,000 Americans have the disease.

Anyone willing to help with the Bethel house-to-house drive or anyone seeking information and patient services is urged to contact Kay Chadbourne, 824-2222, or MS, 694 Main Street, Westbrook, Maine 04092 at tel. 854-9111.

REV. CUMMINGS IS INTERIM PASTOR, METHODIST CHURCH

Kents Hill scored a tight 1-0 victory over host Gould Academy Saturday afternoon.

The two teams played a clean even game throughout the afternoon, displaying good hustle and ball control as most of the action centered around midfield.

Milmo Mamo scored the game's only goal at 10:57 of the third quarter. From a little outside the penalty area fullback Tom Wood chipped the ball over to Mamo on a breakaway. Mamo let fly from the penalty marker, and sailed just beyond goalie Jerome Howell's reach into the right corner of the net.

Kents Hill outshot Gould 30-16 on the afternoon. Howell recorded 13 saves, and Sal Augire, the Kents Hill goaltender, saved 11.

OXFORD COUNTY UNITED PARISH LISTS ACTIVITIES

Throughout New England there is an autumnal phenomenon known as "getting into gear."

Maine folks find that the brisk air of September and October makes possible ambitious goals.

Eagerly they roll up their sleeves and tackle projects they have been mulling over for some time.

It is with the members of the Oxford County United Parish where the North Waterford, East Stoneham and Albany churches combine their efforts to triple the effectiveness of each one. This has been going on for a number of years and as a result the lives of many people have been enriched.

Here are some of their projects:

Rural Health is always an important concern, on Wednesday,

Sept. 26, an organizational meeting for a Physical Fitness Class was held at the North Waterford

Church vestry.

Plans are also underway to establish a health clinic for the area. This will be especially helful during the winter months as patients will not have to travel so far for routine health purposes.

Infants can be checked and immunized, adults can get their flu shots and routine tests can be made.

An old fashioned harvest supper will be served on Thursday, Oct.

11 in the East Stoneham vestry from 5:30 to 6 p. m.

Two weeks later on Oct. 25, a father-son banquet will also be served in the East Stoneham

Church vestry at 6 p. m. The Women's Fellowship will do the hosting.

The Oxford County United Parish members were busy all summer. Each Sunday afternoon they held church services and a food sale at the Papoose Pond camping area. The results of this new en-davor were satisfactory and it will be continued next summer.

The Women's Fellowship held a mother-daughter banquet last May.

The Parish also publishes a quarterly calendar of events of interest to the three communities. These include listings of meetings and events concerning the churches, lodges and service groups. Mrs.

Jean Reynolds has served as editor.

During the summer months each church held public suppers twice a month. They featured such seasonal treats as strawberry short-cakes and a turkey supper with corn on the cob also on the menu.

An innovative project at the Albany Congregational Church suppers was flea market which was well patronized.

Youngsters within the area enjoyed the two week Vacation Bible School held in the Albany Church this year under the direction of Jeffrey Hooker, minister, and a team of teachers.

WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP HOLDS FIRST MEETING OF SEASON

The Women's Fellowship of the Congregational Church held their first meeting of the 1979-80 season at Garland Chapel Wednesday morning, Sept. 26. Mrs. Sandra Caton and Miss Mary Valentina were in charge. Nine ladies were present and signed the sheet for serving as hostesses in the coming months. Maxine Brown and Daisy LeClair will be leaders for the October meeting on the fourth Wednesday of the month. Devotions will be led by Mary Valentine. After the business everyone rode over to Robert and Jane Grover's for a very interesting "snow and tell" program of their wood-working and leaded stained glass work. Also they showed many items they had brought back with them from places they had served in the Vista program.

TELSTAR DUMPED 14-0 BY HALL-DALE, SATURDAY

FOR FIRST GRID LOSS

Hall-Dale handed the host Telstar Rebels their first loss of the season, Saturday, as they shut them out, 14-0.

The Bulldogs tallied pair of touchdowns in the first quarter, both on pass plays.

At the 7:52 mark, halfback Todd Harvey fired a 52-yard pass to give Hall-Dale possession at the Telstar 40. Following two running plays, Hall-Dale used the half-back pass again. This time Mike Pelletier hit Lovering with a short pass and the senior receiver broke three tackles and went 27 yards for the touchdown.

The second Bulldog touchdown

Andover EAST ANDOVER

—Mrs. Marjorie Jodrey, Corres.—

On Thursday, Sept. 27, at noon Cole's Express delivered 34 very heavy cartons of books at Jerry Marston's. Luckily Buster Marston and David Belanger were available to help unload the truck, while Jerry made quick phone calls that gathered the Advance Sales Committee members, Betsy Fisher, Virginia Daigle and Betsy Mixer. All missing lunch, the afternoon was spent in Jerry's cellar inspecting all 980 books (we're 20 short) for possible damage during shipping (seeing as they had travelled to Andover, Mass.) and riffling through every page and checking every binding on every book for defects. Beverly Swan, advisor to the group, came by after school, and with her help the tedious job went faster. Dot Campbell arrived after the Senior Citizens trip just in time to finish up. Jerry spent some time on the phone notifying members and townspeople that the books had indeed arrived. It wasn't long before anxious readers were at her door.

The mail orders were packed and delivered to the Post Office. They went out, insured, by fourth class mail on Friday. Jerry Marston's is a busy and popular place right now.

On Thursday, a group of Andover Senior Citizens went on a foliage tour. They motored to Gorham, N. H., where they all ate lunch at the Yokohama Restaurant then went to Berlin, N. H., and did a little shopping. Then they went to Errol, N. H., by way of the 13 Mile Woods and down to Upton, over East Hill and back home to Andover. A very beautiful trip was enjoyed by Mrs. Marion Bodwell, Mrs. Elsie Hewey, Mrs. Alma Hewey, Mrs. Rena Spidell, Mrs. Thelma Clark, Mrs. Dorothy Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Merton Fox, Mrs. Marguerite Emerson, Mrs. Louise Mills, Mrs. Marie Nuppala, Mrs. Marie Lang, Mrs. Beatrice Dresser, Mrs. Laura Learned and Mrs. Margaret Learned. Mrs. Joy Schultz, who has been traveling the Appalachian Trail, met them at the restaurant and enjoyed lunch with them.

Mrs. Ismay Hutchins, Barbara Warner, Mrs. Agnes Porter and Mrs. Grace Simmons spent the week end in Kittery, guests of their sister, Mrs. Edna Hilton. While there they attended the Deerfield Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nevel arrived at their home on Upper Main Street after spending the summer at their sporting camps on Lake Namahanta. They will return later this month for the hunting season.

Mrs. Joy Schultz of Plymouth, N. H., visited her mother, Mrs. Marion Mansfield, over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. William Nuppala for a few days. On Aug. 13, Mrs. Schultz, age 71, started at Mt. Katahdin to walk the Appalachian Trail across the state of Maine, a total of 279 miles. After a few days rest, she continued to walk to Pemkham Notch, N. H., having reached her "goal" by noon September 25. She had then walked 305 miles. Mrs. Schultz on

—Mrs. Celeste Morgan, Corres.—

Not far from home, I stood one day in an upland pasture to see the glory of our Maine Hills.

Even if I could find the words to describe the mountains and hills I'd have to change them from day to day. The color seems to vary from hour to hour. October is a fulfillment time, a time to see Nature's beauty. It's a time of swishing tree tops, the whisper of leaves, as they come down the hills dressed in finery for a dance festival. It's a time for barking foxes and hooting owls. Geese honk on their way south silhouetted against the blue sky. Why do they honk as they travel, I wonder?

The skunk seems to choose this time of year to dig in my lawn for slugs and other food.

Ducks take off from the pond in a diamond setting.

Over the ridges the hardwoods parade in blankets of red, yellow, bronze, gold, brown and scarlet. The days are near to perfection.

"The beauty of the autumn must be difficult to catch; That exquisite art of color, brush and canvas cannot match. Men and women, old and weary, plainly show the marks of years."

But a tree in late October in its finest robe appears?" —Edgar A. Guest

I wondered as I looked about why a leaf turns scarlet on one half and is golden on the other part? Why does another maple nearby stay green? Why does still another have just color on its leaf tips? So many whys unexplained.

I came upon a short-tailed shrew on its back in the path. Probably a hunting fox killed it and left it uneaten. The shrew is a small relative of a mole but has a strong musky smell. Maybe it was mistaken for a mouse. It spends its days underground, coming above only after dark. Shrews are very tiny at birth, looking like wrinkled pink honey bees. They are highly nervous and tense in their activities. I have often come across them in the way that I did today.

In Mosquito Lane there were still a few mosquitoes. They and the stick-tights and the burdocks made things a bit interesting. If one were describing an attractive wild flower, I'm sure he'd leave out the burdock and stick-tight.

The latter's appearance is not prepossessing, and the small barbed seed-vessels fulfill their destiny by making one's clothing a means of conveyance so that wayfarers detect them. But both are so constantly encountered in the fall that they can hardly be overlooked.

One by one I picked them off my clothes and cast them aside.

Facing the sun I noticed a thin, taut, shining line stretching across the lane. It extended like a silver thread from a bush to a tree.

This wonder was explained to me one day, when I watched a

The following program by the musical officers: Opening song, "There's Music in the Air." Original poem by the Lecturer honoring the musicians. Mabel Putnam played a piano solo with encore. Gerald Easter gave a harmonica solo with an encore. Irene Mills sang. Laura Hutchins played two numbers on her accordion. Louvie Coffin sang "Love's Old Sweet Song" followed by Charlotte Cole who played the harmonica and guitar, singing a couple of comic songs with it. Miriam McAllister rendered "Over the Rainbow". Glenn Chute shared his Alaskan pictures which were beautiful. The orchestra entertained before Glenn's pictures and during the evening. Those playing were Ernest James with his accordion from Stephens Mills Grange, Richard Felt and Carl Brooks. Lettie Brooks read the closing thought.

The next meeting will be Oct. 15 when it is hoped to show pictures of interest.

PUBLIC HEARINGS SCHEDULED ON BASIC SKILLS

Basic Skills Committee Chairman, Dr. Wayne F. Gersen, announced the committee's schedule of public hearings this week, following a meeting at the S. A. D. #44 Teachers Workshop on Friday, Oct. 5.

At their meeting, the Basic Skills Committee reviewed the questions to be used at the public hearings; reviewed the contents of a questionnaire to be distributed in conjunction with the public hearings; and discussed the sites and format of the public hearings.

The testimony taken at the public hearings will focus on the following five questions, derived from the Maine Public Hearings of Basic Skills in 1978:

1. Are you satisfied with the preparation S. A. D. #44 students are receiving in school?

If not, specify the subject areas and the grade levels at which students are receiving insufficient preparation.

2. Do you feel that S. A. D. #44 high school graduates have the skills needed to succeed in their adult life outside of school? If not, what skills are lacking and what might be done to ensure that students gain these skills?

3. What should be the standards/requirements for awarding or denying a high school diploma?

4. Who should be responsible for establishing standards/requirements for awarding or denying a high school diploma?

5. Do you believe that all students should receive the same type of high school diploma?

The schedule for the public hearings is as follows: Monday, Oct. 22, Andover Library; Tuesday, Oct. 23, Locke Mills Town Hall; Wednesday, Oct. 24, Bethel Fire Hall; Thursday, Oct. 25, Woodstock Town Hall; Monday, Oct. 29, Newry Grange.
